

Religious Studies

At Settlebeck school, our Religious Studies curriculum is designed to cultivate a deep understanding and appreciation of the diverse religious traditions that shape our global society.

Rooted in the principles of respect, empathy, and critical thinking, our curriculum seeks to inspire students to explore and engage with the rich tapestry of beliefs, practices, and values that contribute to the cultural and spiritual landscape.

Intent:

- promoting religious literacy
- connecting the wider-world
- fostering critical thinking and reflection
- encouraging respect and tolerance
- preparing for cultural citizenship
- emphasising ethical and moral importance

Through the carefully sequenced curriculum, students will gain the knowledge and skills needed to navigate an increasingly interconnected world with cultural sensitivity and global awareness.

Overall, our Religious Studies curriculum at Settlebeck School is driven by the belief that an informed and empathetic understanding of religious traditions is crucial for fostering a harmonious and inclusive society. Through rigorous academic exploration and the development of key skills, we aim to empower all of our students to navigate the complexities of a diverse world with curiosity, compassion, and an appreciation for the human experience in all its spiritual dimensions.
